Dear Friends,

It gives us immense pleasure in inviting you to participate in the one day National Level Webinar on "A Close View of Algorithm" on July 22nd, 2021, is going to be organized by Department of Computer Science in collaboration with IQAC, Tarakeswar Degree College, Tarakeswar, Hooghly, 712410 (West Bengal).

Abstract of Talk:

This National Webinar aims to discuss about the discipline of computing, which is the systematic study of algorithmic processes that describe and transform information, their theory, analysis, design, efficiency, implementations, and applications. Writing a program is economically rewarding but a good programmer observes it as scientifically appealing, aesthetically much like composing poetry or music. It was strikingly observed by Rabindranath Tagore at the beginning of the 20th Century. Algorithms are designed to train us in various skills that go into a program"s craft. Computer Science is the science and technology associated with design and analysis of efficient Algorithms. Any science is organized common sense. Since the computer has no common sense, we must know how a computer can understand a problem and gives a result. Algorithm is our daily habits logical and step by step recursion. I found the picture of the tortoise in one book on algorithms. These indicate slow and steady wins the race. According to Fynmann, by 2050 we will have multilevel technology mapping culminating into atomic size computer.
